Transfer High Demand, New program starting in 2007-08 based on the 2007 State Budget

250 FTE for 2007-08 and additional 360 FTE for 2008-09 allocated across the system such that every college received permanent new funding to increase their pipeline of transfer students. The goal of Transfer High Demand is to increase the number of students who transfer to bachelor's degree programs in math, science, engineering, engineering technology, computer science and related teacher preparation. SBCTC anticipates 600 additional students enrolled to prepare for transfer in these fields by 2008-09. SBCTC allocated between 12 and 32 FTE per college based on a combination of a base amount for each district sufficient to hire an additional full-time faculty member (if needed – some colleges need additional lab technicians, etc instead of additional faculty) plus historical math and science transfer patterns and future growth needed to match university high demand growth.

Technical College Task Force

- Determination to-date: Technical colleges should have some degree granting authority for transfer degrees similar to community colleges. Yet to be determined - whether selected degree authority (such as for Associate in Business DTA/MRP and Associate in Pre-Nursing DTA/MRP) or identical authority as community colleges. Currently authority for technical colleges is limited to applied associate degrees and does not extend to the DTA or AS-T.
- Proposal to State Board by December 2007

Distance Education - Current

Allows accreditors to review distance education programs without separate accreditation standards.

Accreditors must apply and enforce consistently standards that ensure an institution's courses or programs, including distance education courses or programs, are of sufficient quality to achieve the stated objective for which the courses or programs are offered.

Distance Education - S. 1642

Permits accreditors to address the quality of an institution's distance education offerings without a requirement to establish separate standards, procedures, or policies for the evaluation of distance education.

Accreditors must require institutions to establish that the student who registers for a distance education course or program is the same student who participates in and completes the program and receives the academic credit.

Transfer of Credit - Current

Silent on transfer of credit.

The 1998 HEA reauthorization called for a U.S. Department of Education study to evaluate policies or practices instituted by accreditors regarding treatment of transfer of credit from one higher education institution to another.

Transfer of Credit - S. 1642

Requires accreditors to review that institutions have a transfer of credit policy that establishes the criteria regarding transfer of credit earned at another institution and that the policy is publicly disclosed.

Public Information - Current

Upon request accreditors must disclose to the public a summary of any review that results in a final accrediting decision to deny, terminate, or suspend accreditation, together with comments of the affected institution.

Requires accreditors, as part of their operating procedures, to disclose accreditation standards and procedures and accreditation status of each institution under its jurisdiction, including whether the institution is being considered for accreditation or reaccreditation.

- 1) award of accreditation or reaccreditation
- 2) final decision to deny, withdraw, suspend, or terminate accreditation, or placement on probation, and any findings made in connection with the action, together with the official comments of the affected institution,
- 3) any other adverse action taken.

Current requirement that accreditors disclose their accreditation standards and procedures remains unchanged.

- 1) adequate specification of requirements and deficiencies at the institution;
- 2) notice of an opportunity for a hearing;
- 3) right to appeal any adverse decision against such institution; and
- 4) right to representation by counsel for any such institution.

Substantive Change Regulation

Existing USDOE substantive change regulations for accrediting agencies (such as NWCCU) require oversight of new locations where 50% or more of a program is offered. There are indications these regulations are being interpreted more narrowly and enforced more rigorously than in the past.

§602.22 *Substantive Change

The agency's procedures for the approval of the establishment of an additional location geographically apart from the main campus at which the institution offers at least 50 percent of an educational program must determine if the institution has the fiscal and administrative capacity to operate the additional location and must include:

§602.22 *Substantive Change

A visit, within six months, to each additional location the institution establishes, if it:

- 1) Has a total of three or fewer additional locations;
- 2) Has not demonstrated a proven record of effective educational oversight of additional locations; or
- 3) Has been placed on warning, probation, or show cause or is subject to some limitation by the agency on its accreditation or preaccreditation status;

§602.22 *Substantive Change

(2) An effective mechanism for conducting, at reasonable intervals, visits to additional locations of institutions that operate more than three additional locations; and

(3) An effective mechanism, which may, at the agency's discretion, include visits to additional locations, for ensuring that accredited and preaccredited institutions that experience rapid growth in the number of additional locations maintain educational quality.
